

There's a lot at stake—please join us:

Hudson River PCB Forum

The Superfund cleanup is at a crucial point, and the future economic and environmental health of Hudson River communities—from the north of the Troy Dam to NYC—is hanging in the balance.

Learn the latest on the project and how you can help urge GE to complete a thorough cleanup—not just 65% of the job—before the company pulls out of the river next year.

Marist College Cornell Boathouse
Tuesday, November 11, 2014
4 - 6 p.m.

Featuring elected officials and guests from the Historic Hudson-Hoosic Partnership

The 2014 Hudson River PCB Forum has limited seating so please pre-register at:
www.surveymonkey.com/s/HRPCBForum2014.

Walk-ins are welcome and priority will be given to municipal officials and interested citizens on a first come, first served basis.

For more information please contact Althea Mullarkey at 845 473 4440, Ext. 272